Badger also recognized Shawn Fredricks and Kim Gilbank for their persistence in pursuing and winning the coveted Carol M. White Physical Education Program Grant.

Tracy Donich, Elementary Curriculum Supervisor presented the I Can statements. She indicated that the purpose of the statements is to help students identify what their goals are based on state standards and the content being taught in the district. When asked what students are learning, they are able to answer with that "I Can...." Members asked questions of Donich and made comments.

Steve McNeal, Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum and Instruction presented the summer school report. He highlighted summer school expenses as well as the Nova net software. He also explained summer school FTE and state aid. He indicated that the summer school program was very successful and extremely profitable. He stated that students were getting remediation courses to bring them up to grade level as well as students for enrichment classes. He stated that he thought enrichment courses for next year would be expanded and he also thought more students would need to earn credits at the middle school level during the summer to move on to the high school in the fall. He did also indicate that the pay for teachers should be looked at to ensure that they are competitive to neighboring districts. Members asked questions of McNeal and made comments. Chris Wesling, Assistant Superintendent for Pupil Services, addressed the question of services and needs for special education students with IEP's and students with 504 plans.

Student representative, Madeline West, reported on student activities. She indicated that the hot topic at the high school is the new grading policy. She indicated that students are using the window of opportunity as a procrastination tool. Others are grateful for the extra time for assignments.
